Join Us Today!

Joining our clan couldn't be any easier! Before making an application, you must read through all the topics listed on our "forum rules" forum.

Click here to reach this forum and read the topics listed.

Once you've read through all the crucial information, including global rules, our activeness policy and requirements hit your browser's "back" button and return to this page.

Assuming that you've now read all the important criteria on our rules forum, please now begin filling in the application form!

The application form is in place to take information from you including your RuneScape username, your combat level and fighting statistics, your reason for joining us and what you intend to do as a member of our community.

Click here to reach our application form.

Once you've filled in our application form and submitted all the inputted data to us, we recommend that you frequently check the 'Apply' sub-forum which is the destination where you will find your submitted application.

Please keep checking back to look for any responses that we've made to your submission!

It is important that you do this because depending on your Email account settings and our current board settings you may NOT receive a notification alerting you of your acceptance into the clan or the activation of your account.

Get Support And Help

If during the registration process you have come across any problems, such as bugs or errors, we kindly request that you contact "live support" by clicking the support button at the top of our forums and alerting an operator about the issue.

If you believe you've done something incorrectly that caused you to run into any difficulties, please return to the forum index and select "public clan discussion" (or click here) and ask your question there.

You will then receive a helpful response from clan members or staff.

If you have any general non-technical questions, then don't hesitate to contact us still.

Please note, if you are wanting to leave our clan or announce an absence, please log into your account and go over to the "announce absences" sub-forum of "news & announcements".

Thank you for reading, we look forward to seeing you in our community!
